Union 105

Patrick Studios

Come and call in, artist Tony Tomlin may be doing some drawings as part of his weekly visit and there is always something to see, pick up or hear about.

Union 105 is situated on Chapeltown Road. Its remit has an interesting ambience along with other creatives such as Pyramid of Arts and Lumen, the venue is a good example of how artists and art organisations can work alongside other businesses. It and look out for a permanent art work by Daniel Lehan.

Barkston Studios has up to 30 artists based in five units on the third floor of this light industrial building. Studios are open plan and are different shapes and sizes. The most recent unit also includes a dedicated ceramics facility and a classroom that hosts East Street Arts' Adult and Community Learning programme that offers art classes to a range of people is also administered and coordinated from Union 105.

Welcome to our HQ: Our central hub. Patrick Studios is endeavouring to be professional in their chosen discipline and where East Street Arts' purpose built social club and re-opened in 2004.

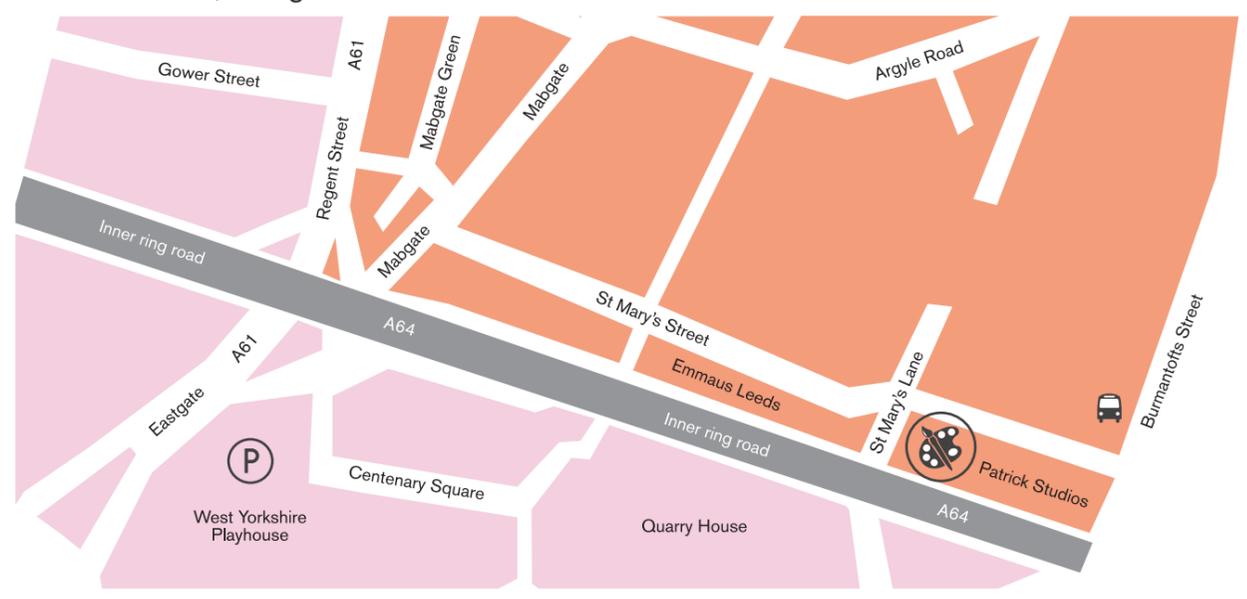

Patrick Studios takes St Mary's Lane as its independent scene in Mabgate; a place we're proud to be connected to and the kettle is always on.

Patrick Studios is a bespoke centre for artists and provides up to 34 quality studio spaces, with additional resource areas, a double height project space and the organisations' headquarters.

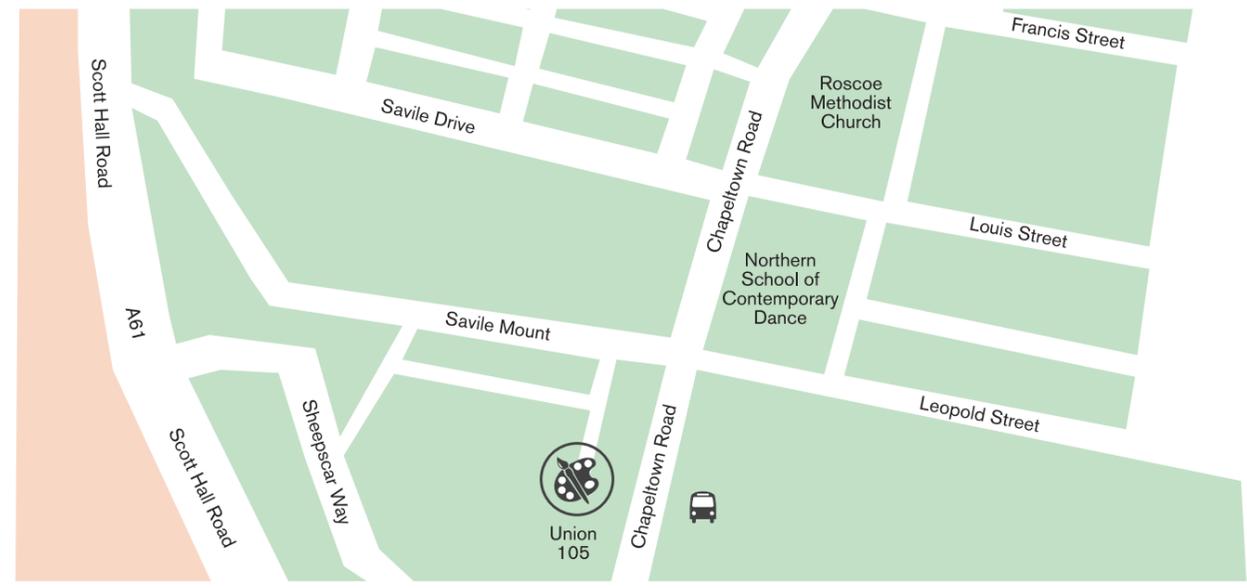

It is unique as it addresses artists' needs for structured support outside of academic institutions and fosters an ethos of professional development.
